A MESSAGE FROM SUPERINTENDENT MARK LUEBKER

It is with great pleasure to welcome you to the 2014-15 school year! Teachers are scheduled to be in the buildings on August 26-28 for in-service and students will begin classes on Tuesday, September 2nd. An open house is scheduled in all buildings on Thursday, August 28 from 3:30 – 6:30 p.m.

Once summer school ended in early July, the preparations for the next school year began. Our buildings are busy with activities almost every day in the summer months. The kids in Osceola are fortunate to have such excellent facilities available to them. Although busy with planning for the new school year, the summer days are usually quiet. I always look forward to those days being replaced with the laughter and excitement of students and staff ready to begin another year.

Many of our teachers ended the school year in June and started right back up teaching summer school. In addition, the staff spends days in June and July attending Summer Academy Professional Development, data days, taking graduate coursework, working on curriculum and assessments, and attending conferences. The work teachers do during the summer allows them to focus on student achievement during the normal school year.

The summer is a busy time for the District Office staff. The District's fiscal year ends June 30. At the same time the amazing District Office staff is wrapped up the end of the 2013-14 school year, information is prepared for our annual required audit in July, and budgets and schedules are being organized for the start of the 2014-15 school year.

Our custodial staff continues to do an excellent job preparing our buildings for the start of the new year. They work as a team moving from building to building cleaning carpets, waxing floors, and touching up paint. The work they do to keep our facilities in tip-top shape is greatly appreciated. In addition, the custodial staff does an excellent job keeping our well used outdoor facilities groomed and pleasant looking to the passersby.

The administrative leadership team takes time during the summer to order materials, build schedules, fill vacant positions, as well as review and study student achievement data. This work will be used to help set building goals and expectations for the year. The 2014-15 school year marks the start of the state mandatory Educator Effectiveness System. The leadership team has completed the required training to become certified evaluators in the Educator Effectiveness System.

Kudos to the Tech Department, Food Service, Transportation Department, and building office staff for all the behind the scenes work during the summer months preparing for the start of the school year.

As the final days of summer quickly slip away, enjoy the time with family and friends. Take time to enjoy the little things in life.

Save the Date!

WELCOME TO THE ARTS IN OSCEOLA

On the cover:

OIS Self Portraits Leonardo Da Vinci Style by Mr. Andy Dyer

One of the things that I love about art is the rich and colorful history that it has stretching back for thousands of years. At the Osceola Intermediate School, students have a chance to learn about some of the most influential artists and important art movements from around the world and throughout time. Frank Lloyd Wright, Georgia O'Keeffe, Henri Matisse, ancient Egypt, Greece, and Japan are a few examples of artists and cultures that our third, fourth and fifth grade students study. As a part of these units, students have the opportunity to put their artistic skills to work by creating their own works of art in the style or manner of these famous artists of the past. Below are some examples of fourth graders who painted their own self portraits in the costume and style of Leonardo Da Vinci's Mona Lisa. I can't wait to see what creative works of art will be created by our students this year.

Osceola High School Art Bus Art Show

Hosting an art show at the high school has always been a dream for art teachers Mr. Derek Carlson and Ms. Peg Medcraft. They knew they wanted to share the artwork of their very talented OHS students in a unique way. The idea of "Art Bus Art Show" was formed. "It was a simple concept; we were to host the art show on a yellow school bus prior to the OHS Spring Choir Concert," stated Derek Carlson. "It was all systems go for our Art Bus Show when the torrential rainfall transpired."

Art Bus Art Show

The Art Bus Art Show was then held in the Auditorium Commons at OHS. It provided a large space, natural light and the art show was able to be on display for both the band and choir concerts as well as the National Honor Society Induction. Many parents, community members, and students perused the art show prior to the concerts. The OHS Art Show will be held again next May in the same location in the OHS Auditorium Commons. "We loved the novelty of art on the school bus, but we anticipate over 300 pieces in 2015 on display," said Derek Carlson. "Students are on board to showcase their creations and love it when the public can view their hard work."

2015 will bring two art awards to the OHS Art Show for students to gain recognition. The first is the Osceola Superintendent Award; one student's work will be chosen to be on display in the office of Mr. Luebker for the following school year. Mr. Luebker will donate $100 to Osceola Empty Bowls in the name of the winning artist. The second award will be "Best in Show." One piece will be chosen by a panel of artists from our community to receive a prize package donated by artists, teachers, and businesses. Students should start planning now as the art pieces do not have to be class assignments.

Osceola Elementary School Where Creativity Comes to Life

Leann Boettcher and Addison Seelnacht

All of the students at the Osceola Elementary School are very creative. This creativity comes to life as they attend art class and are encouraged to channel that creativity into wonderfully imaginative works of art. Every year our students have the chance to experiment with a variety of art materials and processes such as; paint, ink, collage, pastels and everyone's favorite, ceramic clay! Each lesson is designed to help the students improve upon their skills that they have learned in the previous year. Although the student's artwork is consistently displayed within the school, one of our ongoing efforts is to move more of these displays out into the community. In the past, you may have seen their work at the library, grocery store, coffee shop as well as other local businesses. The photo to the left are students who had their work on display at the CESA 11 offices in Turtle Lake. Keep your eyes open as we head into the 2014-15 school year for more student work brightening up Osceola.

How Can A Bench Answer A Question? by Mrs. Amy Klein

The Bench Project was a collaborative, community art project. It was about building connections, assembling answers to questions and producing history. Not so much about woodworking. We would work with many people in the community, and this group would be the designers of a piece of public art—an art bench—in Mill Pond Park.

And this bench would not be any ordinary bench.

The Bench Project

In 2005, at the Phipps Center for the Arts (Hudson, WI), the Bench Project began with some questions:

How can we build stronger community relationships among people of all ages? How can we build appreciation for the St. Croix River, its history and wildlife? How can the special qualities of each community along the St. Croix River be more deeply appreciated by the public at large?

Bench Project Participants

The Bench Project involves teachers, artists, community organizers, and volunteers lend their expertise to hone ideas and messages that can be shared through a piece of public art. Osceola's bench will be the eighth along the Art-Bench Trail (www.artbenchtrail.org), joining St. Croix Falls, Bayport, Hudson, Somerset, Marine on St. Croix, Carpenter Nature Center and Prescott.

The Question

After working together on the first Bench Project in St. Croix Falls, Anastasia Shartin, visual arts director at the Phipps, approached me to begin the process in Osceola. Enthusiasm was quick from the Art Barn, the Osceola Public Library, Osceola Historical Society, the School District and village administration. An artist was chosen to join the team. With details in place for facilitating the project through summer school, an essential question was raised: How was the river shaped and how has the river shaped us?

Creation of a Map of the Area

Part research/part adventure, the group trekked to the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway and Standing Cedars Nature Preserve to find out about the land before the village of Osceola existed. They learned of past industries via the Osceola Historical Society and toured Bending Branches as an example of modern industry. Working side by side with artists at Franconia Sculpture Park, students were profoundly impacted by the power of imagination. Canoeing a section the St. Croix, they felt the peace and wonder of the very waterway that inspired the community of Osceola.

River Falls artist David Markson, serving as the Bench Project's lead artist, was with the group observing and learning about Osceola along with the students.

A Bench With a Message

Returning to the essential question--How was the river shaped and how has the river shaped us--the students immediately saw the shape of a circle. Logs, a saw blade, paddleboat wheels were easy to see. However, students went deeper and through discussion, believed the bench should reflect a circular concept. Eons of time, generations, work and change have shaped our community, now, we have a responsibility—together--to take care of the Osceola's unique beauty, it's unique qualities, for the future, for others to enjoy. The group concluded the message of the bench should be "togetherness"—an expression of collective effort, appreciation and hope for the future of the community of Osceola.

Now the bench--and its answer--was ready for the group to make it visible.

The Design and the Site

Working with village administrator Joel West, the students selected a place for the bench in Mill Pond Park. In the center of town, many people would have access to the bench. Next to the creek, people would be close to nature.

The Bench Design

Consideration had to be given to durability of materials and the representative meaning of each component in the ultimate design of the bench.

With the guidance of artist David Markson, the students settled on several important components. The bench will be a circular shape, include a sculptural waterfall and bird's eye map of the St. Croix River. Native materials such as basalt, sandstone and items that reflect industry such as railroad ties and steel rods will be incorporated into the design. Meaningful words chosen by students will be sandblasted into stones: history, ecosystem, 1842, mills, fishing, shaped by the river, Osceola, and of course, togetherness.

The actual bench will be assembled and installed by the students, community partners and artist David Markson over several workdays in August. It will be dedicated in a community event held during the Osceola Community Fair, September 5-7. Integral to this project was the support of the Art Barn, Bending Branches, Franconia Sculpture Park, J&S Landscaping, Osceola School District, the Village of Osceola, Osceola Historical Society, and the Phipps Center for the Arts.

The OHS Drama Club Starts Another Active Year

The OHS Drama Club has a full year of activity planned with four major projects in the works. The second week of school finds the club kicking off the school year right away with auditions for the Fall production of Robin Hood, scheduled to hit the stage of the OHS Auditorium the second week of November. February finds members of the club rolling up their sleeves to help the OMS Drama Club with rehearsal and production of the OMS play.

March 7th, 2015, finds the Drama Club collaborating with the Music Department to mount the OHS Variety Show, an annual event that has benefited a variety of worthy causes for the past 15 years. No sooner will the smoke clear from the Variety Show and the Drama Club will be in production for the Spring 2015 play, scheduled for late April. The Drama Club also plans to see "Beauty and the Beast" and "Romeo and Juliet".

A Work In Progress

Osceola Students Travel To Spain

Center of Puerta del Sol in Madrid

The doors of opportunity that open when a person travels are endless and often times surprising. This summer a small, but excited group of young ladies traveled to Spain for two weeks to see what kind of doors they could walk through to enhance their world view and enrich their lives. Bailey Ethier, Mickie Getschel and Hannah Mierow all walked through plenty of new doors while on the Iberian Peninsula and the life experiences they had will forever shape their lives.

The adventures started in Madrid where the group was able to visit two world famous museums; the Prado, where Velazquez's Las Meninas came to life and then it was off to the Reina Sofia where the works of Picasso became something far more than what had been projected on the screen in the classroom. A traditional visit in Madrid is the royal palace, this year it was not to be. The former King Juan Carlos I, had just abdicated his throne to his son, now King Felipe IV. historical event for sure, but the ladies will have to return to Spain to be able to visit the palace.

The group then traveled to Sevilla, Spain where they walked through the doors of the Giralda Tower to enjoy a breath-taking view of the city. The group also enjoyed a tour of one of the oldest bullfighting rings in the world and learned the history and pageantry of the bullfight. Later that day we were able to attend a bullfight at the Maestranza Plaza de Toros, a real treat as there are not bullfights everyday. The ladies were able to take what they had learned earlier that morning and appreciate the bullfight as a deeply traditional part of the Spanish culture. We ended that perfect day in Spain with a boat cruise on the Guadalquivir River and some gelato on the way home to the hotel.

Maestranza Plaza de Toros

Gardens at Alhambra

The final major stop before the family stay was Granada, Spain where the ladies were able to experience the magical Alhambra and feel the energy in Granada. Exploring a site that has been in existence since 889 is humbling at best.

Finally, the group headed to Alicante to experience the part of the trip that causes the most anxiety before the trip and causes the most tears at the end as they have to say, "Hasta luego" to people that have welcomed them into their homes. For the most part the Spanish people are a very social people and have a wide network of friends and family, as a result they open their homes and hearts fully to our students and make sure that they have the time of their lives. The family stay experience is always the most powerful, walking through the door of someone else's home can be one of the most pivotal educational experiences one can have.

The next opportunity for Osceola students to travel to Spain will be the summer of 2016, it will be sooner than you know! Students need to have had two years of high school Spanish in order to sign-up for the trip. Information will be handed out later this school year. Students that are interested in walking through some doors that hold new experiences for them are welcomed to come along!

OHS Marching Chiefs Have A Successful Summer

The Osceola Marching Chieftains had another successful summer of marching band despite the rainy weather in June and early July. Our students put together a great show featuring the music from the 70's hit musical "Grease." Female members of our flag squad donned poodle skirts and pink t-shirts with "Pink Ladies" printed on the back. Male flag squad member Sam Ritcey put on a white t-shirt with blue-jeans to represent "Danny", while our drum majorette, Macie Steffen, put on the yellow skirt of "Sandy." The band performed "Summer Nights", "Greased Lightning", and "We Go Together" for the musical portion of this show.

Marching Chiefs Banner

The band's summer season began with two back-to-back parades in Columbia Heights and Blaine MN. Band director, Art Aytay says, "These two parades are a great way to start our season and become a good preparation for our July 4th trip." The band then traveled to St. Louis, Missouri where they marched in the "VP 4th of July Parade" as well as at 6-Flags amusement park, also in St. Louis. Upon returning home to Osceola, the band had yet another back-to-back weekend of marching, first in River Falls the following Friday night, then in New Richmond on Saturday evening.

Big Finish in Columbia Heights

Wrapping up the marching season, the Chiefs performed in Hopkins, MN at their "Raspberry Festival" parade as well as a performance at the Minneapolis Aquatennial parade right in the heart of the city. Aytay comments, "I'm really proud of these kids. They give up a lot to be at the rehearsals and parades, and yet never complain while doing it no matter what the weather brings. It's really inspirational. Our students do a fantastic job of representing Osceola and people are always happy to see them perform wherever we go."

The Osceola Marching Chief's final "Grease" performance will take place on Sunday, Sept 7 at the Osceola Wheels and Wings parade.

The Arts Provide The Means For Every Student To Learn

Years of research show that arts education is closely linked to almost everything that we, as a nation, say we want for our children and demand from our schools: academic achievement, social and emotional development, civic engagement, and equitable opportunity. Involvement in the arts is associated with gains in math, reading, cognitive ability, critical thinking, and verbal skill. Arts learning can also improve motivation, concentration, confidence, and teamwork. A 2005 report by the Rand Corporation about the visual arts argues that the intrinsic pleasures and stimulation of the art experience do more than sweeten an individual's life -- according to the report, they "can connect people more deeply to the world and open them to new ways of seeing," creating the foundation to forge social bonds and community cohesion.

Strong arts programming in schools help close economic gaps - from Mozart for babies to tutus for toddlers to family trips to the museum, the children of affluent, aspiring families generally get exposed to the arts whether or not public schools provide them. This is not necessarily the case for low-income children. "Arts education enables those children from a financially challenged background to have a more level playing field with children who have had those enrichment experiences," says Eric Cooper, president and founder of the National Urban Alliance for Effective Education. Traditionally, school district policies across America have recognized the value of the arts. Forty-seven states have arts-education mandates, forty-eight have arts-education standards, and forty have arts requirements for high school graduation.

As we enter an era of budget constraints and tougher accountability for schools, we need to remember the arts have a powerful impact on learning. Many of the skills we want for our 21st century career and college ready students are enhanced by course work in the arts: the ability to think creatively, collaborate, analyze, synthesis, evaluate, and problem solve. The arts are languages that all people speak, cutting across racial, cultural, social, and economic barriers making it possible to bridge understanding. They provide the means for every student to learn.

The Visual A

So much MORE than what you see...

➤ Learning to draw and think creatively helps prepare students for the future!

➤ The truth is that learning to paint, create a website, or design an energy-efficient home requires mastering skills which are often invisible to the naked eye, but are developed through a strong visual arts education.

“While students in art classes learn techniques specific to art, such as how to draw, how to mix paint, or how to center a pot, they're also taught a remarkable array of mental habits not emphasized elsewhere in schools.”

—Lois Hetland and Ellen Winner (Educational researchers at Harvard's Project Zero)

➤ Our nation's economic and social landscapes are changing before our eyes. Now, more than ever, our kids need the lessons the visual arts teach.

Did you know that . . .

➤ We live in a visual age. Most children and youth spend 10 hours per day in front of screens composed of pictures and words, often two types of screens at once.

➤ The arts provide jobs. 1.25 million Americans currently work in the visual arts. Jobs for artists and designers are predicted to increase by 43% by 2016.

➤ Art education equips students to form mental images, which can be used to solve problems—an ability that chemists, engineers, and architects use to create models and that inventors use to think up new ideas.

➤ Art education requires students to use their eyes and hands to give form to ideas generated in the brain—a discipline that Nobel Prize winner Eric Kandel proved boosts brain power.

➤ Research also indicates that high school art programs engage students and keep in school those at-risk of dropping out.

➤ A “little” visual arts education is simply not adequate and would be considered unacceptable in any other core academic area. Teaching students to be creative is a deliberate process, much like teaching literacy or mathematics, and is certainly just as important. The skills learned through participation in the visual arts help to equip our nation's youth for the challenges they will face in shaping the future. The visual arts are essential to a high-quality and balanced education.

Annual Notice -- Homeless Children

The McKinney-Vento Act defines homeless children and youth (twenty-one years of age and younger) as:

- Children and youth who lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence, and includes children and youth who are:
 - sharing the housing of other persons due to loss of housing, economic hardship, or a similar reason (sometimes referred to as double-up);
 - living in motels, hotels, trailer parks, or camping grounds due to lack of alternative adequate accommodations;
 - living in emergency or transitional shelters;
 - abandoned in hospitals; or
 - awaiting foster care placement.
- Children and youth who have a primary nighttime residence that is a public or private place not designated for, or ordinarily used as, a regular sleeping accommodation for human beings.
- Children and youth who are living in cars, parks, public spaces, abandoned buildings, substandard housing, bus or train stations, or similar settings.
- Migratory children who qualify as homeless because they are living in circumstances described above.

If you are personally aware of or are acquainted with any children who may qualify according to the above criteria, the School District of Osceola provides the following assurances to parents of homeless children:

- The local district staff person (liaison) for homeless children is Peggy Weber, Principal of the Osceola Elementary School.
- There shall be immediate enrollment and school participation, even if educational and medical records and proof of residency are not available.
- All educational opportunities and related opportunities for homeless students (preschool to age 21), including unaccompanied youth, shall be the same as for the general student population.
- Enrollment and transportation rights, including transportation to the school of origin shall be possible. "School of origin" is defined as the school the child attended when permanently housed or when last enrolled.

- Written explanation of why a homeless child is placed other than in a school of origin or school requested by the parent, with the right to appeal within the local dispute resolution process.

- Meaningful opportunities for parents to participate in the education of their children. These shall include: special notices of events, parent-teacher conferences, newsletters, and access to student records.

Please contact Peggy Weber, homeless liaison for the School District of Osceola at 715-294-3457 for additional information about homeless issues.

Asbestos Notification

In compliance with the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA), this is notice that the Osceola School District has an Asbestos Management Plan at the school district office. The plan is available for inspection by the public, parents, and district employees. The district performs six month periodic surveillance of asbestos in January and July and full re-inspections every three years. For more information please contact the district office.

Notice of Child Find Activity

The school district is required to locate, identify, and evaluate all children, with disabilities, including children with disabilities attending private schools in the school district, and homeless children. The process of locating, identifying, and evaluating children with disabilities is known as child find. The school district conducts the following child find activities each year. This notice informs parents of the records the school district will develop and maintain as part of its child find activities. This notice also informs parents of their rights regarding any records developed.

The school district gathers personally identifiable information on any child who participates in child find activities. Parents, teachers, and other professionals provide information to the school related to the child's academic performance, behavior, and health. This information is used to determine whether the child needs special education services. Personally identifiable information directly related to a child and maintained by the school is a pupil record. Pupil records include records maintained in any way including, but not limited to, computer storage media, video and audiotape, film, microfilm, and microfiche. Records maintained for personal use by a teacher and not available to others and records available only to persons involved in the psychological treatment of a child are not pupil records.

The school district maintains several classes of pupil records.

- "Progress records" include grades, courses the child has taken, the child's attendance record, immunization records, required lead screening records, and records of school extra-curricular activities. Progress records must be maintained for at least five years after the child ceases to be enrolled.
- "Behavioral records" include such records as psychological tests, personality evaluations, records of conversations, written statements relating specifically to the pupil's behavior, tests relating specifically to achievement or measurement of ability, physical health records other than immunization and lead screening records, law enforcement officers' records, and other pupil records that are not "progress records." Law enforcement officers' records are maintained separately from other pupil records. Behavioral records may be maintained for no longer than one year after the child graduates or otherwise ceases to be enrolled, unless the parent specifies in writing that the records may be maintained for a longer period of time. The school district informs parents when pupil records are no longer needed to provide special education. At the request of the child's parents, the school district destroys the information that is no longer needed.
- "Directory data" includes the student's name, address, telephone listing, date and place of birth, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, photographs, degrees and awards received, and the name of the school most recently previously attended by the student.
- "Pupil physical health records" include basic health information about a pupil, including the pupil's immunization records, an emergency medical card, a log of first aid and medicine administered to the pupil, an athletic permit card, a record concerning the pupil's ability to participate in an education program, any required lead screening records, the results of any routine screening test, such as for hearing, vision or scoliosis, and any follow-up to the test, and any other basic health information, as determined by the state superintendent. Any pupil record relating to a pupil's physical health that is not a pupil physical health record is treated as a patient health care record under sections 146.81 to 146.84, Wisconsin Statutes. Any pupil record concerning HIV testing is treated as provided under section 252.15, Wisconsin Statutes.

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), and section 118.125, Wisconsin Statutes, afford parents and students over 18 years of age ("eligible students") the following rights with respect to education records:

- The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of receipt of the request. Parents or eligible students should submit to the school principal a written request that identifies the records(s) they wish to inspect. The principal will make arrangements for access and notify the parent or eligible student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. The school district will comply with the request without unnecessary delay and before any meeting about an individualized education program, or any due process hearing, and in no case more than 45 days after the request has been made. If any record includes information on more than one child, the parents of those children have the right to inspect and review only the information about their child or to be informed of that specific information. Upon request, the school district will give a parent or eligible student a copy of the progress records and a copy of the behavioral records. Upon request, the school district will give the parent or eligible student a list of the types and locations of education records collected, maintained, or used by the district for special education. The school district will respond to reasonable requests for explanations and interpretations of the records. A representative of the parent may inspect and review the records.
- The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the parent or eligible student believes is inaccurate or misleading. Parents or eligible students may ask the Osceola School District to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the school principal, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the district decides not to amend the record, the district will notify the parent or eligible student of the decision and the right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the parent or eligible student when notified of the right to a hearing.

- The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information in the student's education records, except to the extent that federal and state law authorize disclosure without consent. The exceptions are stated in 34 CFR 99.31, Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act regulations; Sec. 9528, PL107-110, No Child Left Behind Act of 2001; and section 118.125(2)(a) to (m) and sub. (2m), Wisconsin Statutes. One exception that permits disclosure without consent is disclosures to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the district as an administrator, supervisor, instructor, or support staff member (including health or medical staff and law enforcement unit personnel); a person serving on the school board; a person or company with whom the district has contracted to perform a special task (such as an attorney, auditor, medical consultant, or therapist); or a parent or student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the district discloses education records without consent to officials of another school district in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. Also the district discloses "directory data" without consent, unless the parent notifies the district that it may not be released without prior parental consent.

- The right to file a complaint with the U. S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the District to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, S.W., Washington, DC 20202-4605.

Notice to Parents and Individuals Required to Make Referrals

Upon request, the school district is required to evaluate a child for eligibility for special education services. A request for evaluation is known as a referral. When the district receives a referral, the district will appoint an Individualized Education Program (IEP) team to determine if the child has a disability, and if the child needs special education services. The district locates, identifies, and evaluates all children with disabilities who are enrolled by their parents in private (including religious) schools, elementary schools and secondary schools located in the school district.

A physician, nurse, psychologist, social worker, or administrator of a social agency who reasonably believes a child brought to him or her for services is a child with a disability has a legal duty to refer the child, including a homeless child, to the school district in which the child resides. Before referring the child, the person making the referral must inform the child's parent that the referral will be made.

Others, including parents, who reasonably believe a child is a child with a disability may also refer the child, including a homeless child, to the school district in which the child resides.

Referrals must be in writing and include the reason why the person believes the child is a child with a disability. A referral may be made by contacting Carson McEvoy, School Psychologist, School District of Osceola, at 715-294-4180, or by writing him at 1029 Oak Ridge Drive, Osceola, WI 54020.

Water Aerobic Classes (Aqua)

Strengthens the body...relaxes the mind...toughens the spirit! Water Aerobics combines a solid Cardiovascular & Aerobic workout with muscle-toning and strength building over a 1-hour class period. Water Aerobics takes place in the shallow area of the pool (approximately 3-4 feet of water). Many participants who are not swimmers find water aerobics a great way to workout, keep cool, and increase their confidence in the water. Water Aerobics is ideal for everyone regardless of age, fitness level, or gender. A typical 1-hour class workout looks like this:

5 - 10 min. Warm-up/stretching 15-20 min. Strength-train/Muscle-tone (with equipment)

20-30 min. Aerobics 10 min. Cool down/Stretching

Classes meet: Mon & Wed from 4:30 – 5:30 p.m.; Tues & Thurs from 5:00 - 6:00 p.m.; Sat. from 11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m.

Cost $4.00 per session or buy a 12 punch card for $43.00. We also offer 3 month, 6 month and 1 year memberships.

American Red Cross Swimming Lessons

Students should come prepared to swim and have their own towel and plastic bag to put wet items into after their lesson. We do have dressing rooms for boys & girls. Parents of very small children needing supervision in their dressing should ask the attendant on duty (at the cashier's desk) for permission to use our family dressing room. Parents are asked to seat themselves on our bleachers during lessons. Our teachers are American Red Cross certified swim instructors. It is our policy to offer swimming lessons year-round. Parents need to register their child for swimming lessons prior to the start of each class.

POLICY: Registration for swimming lessons will only be available starting 6 weeks before the session starts. Registration for a session will close 2 weeks prior to the start of the session so that we are able to complete our paperwork. Payment for classes is due by the closing date listed on the website. Red Cross swim lessons, levels Parent & Tot through Level 6 are offered at our facility. Check out our website at www.osceola.k12.wi.us for specific class times.
